PUBLIC LIFE

Some men have, as a result of native aptitude or hard-won experience, a great understanding of public affairs. They seem to have a consciousness of their trusteeship, and to realize the importance of deliberation and caution, and of parliamentary rules of procedure, in reaching wise community decisions. In a good many years of watching public bodies at work, not only in this community but in city communities as well, we don't think that we ever saw a better chairman than W. H. Eves as the presiding officer until recently of Newmarket's public school board.

It was a pleasure to watch Mr. Eves conduct a meeting. He did not try to dominate his board. He made sure that every member of the board had a chance to voice an opinion before he asked for a decision. He didn't mind expressing his own opinion, but he usually made it clear that it was only his own opinion and that he did not wish it to prevail if others disagreed with him. In short, his effort was to draw out of the board the wisest collective decision. Mr. Eves has now retired from the board, "full of honors."

IT'S YOUR HOSPITAL

The annual meeting of the York County Hospital Association takes place tomorrow evening. This is the one annual opportunity which the citizen has to show interest in the hospital other than by being a patient there.

It is said that in order to vote at these meetings a person should be a member of the Association at a fee of one dollar per annum. This is a dead by-law, and genuinely interested persons are invited to attend and participate in the annual meeting without having to go through any preliminaries, states Acting Secretary P. J. Tod.

The hospital is for the people of Newmarket, Aurora and all of northern York county, and it is for the people who depend on the hospital to find ways and means of overcoming the congestion at the hospital and so increasing its usefulness.

Other annual meetings have brought out splendid financial reports and the members of the board are to be congratulated on the good business management which they have given. The late J. J. McCaffrey, the secretary-treasurer for so many years, will be missed at this year's meeting, but his work is still there.

The board has built a solid financial edifice which will warrant expansion when the people of northern York county feel that the time has arrived.

SERVICES OR LOWER TAX RATE

Newmarket town council will be striking the tax rate for 1943 shortly. There are always two schools of opinion in the council on this subject. When it would be possible to move the tax rate downward-and this may be such a year-some councillors would instead give the public needed services or improve the town's financial position looking forward to such services, Reeve F. A. Lundy spoke in favor of a resolution in York county council last week asking an amendment to the Municipal Act that would permit municipalities to levy money now to be spent on post-war rehabilitation and reconstruction.

It is possible for municipalities to do quite a bit in the way of building up reserves within the. present framework of the Municipal Act by writing off physical assets and uncollected but collectible taxes. Newmarket could also quite properly put the 1942 surplus from its water and light department ($7,391 in 1941) in a public utilities bank account for use in improving the water and electric systems in post-war years, instead of ising it in reduction of the 1943 rate.

Mr. Lundy is chairman of the town council's finance committee. If he is still of the same mind as he was when speaking in county council, he could urge his committee to set aside the 1942 water and light surplus as money that should not go into the town treasury, and then to strike the tax rate. If it should be more than the 41 mills of 1942 the citizens will never be in a better position to pay taxes than they are this year.

Mr. Landy is, in our opinion, on sounder ground, and is being a more forward-looking public man, more of a statesman, when he takes the sesition that he did take in county council than when he talks, as he has done several times of late, of the necessity of "taking the burden off real estate, off the property-owner."

As yet we have been unable to find this burdened Newmarket property-owner who is so anxious to have his taxes lowered. We own property ourselves and we know and talk with many, many citizens who own property. We talk about lots of things, but we have no consciousness of any of these property-owners clamoring for lower taxes. They do, however, often talk about improvements and services which they think desirable and necessary.

We don't feel that the property-owners of this town are to be pitied. Their assessments are low, the tax rate is moderate. They own property because they choose to own it. They bought it because they thought it cheaper to buy their own homes than to rent from someone else. At the moment, home-owners are mighty glad that they had the foresight to buy. As for landlords, people who own more than one home, they bought or held a second (or third) home because they thought it a good investment, and it is still a good investment. The fact that they can't take advantage of the present easy money situation and raise their rents doesn't turn their properties into poor investments. Even Victory bonds pay only three percent interest.

Property-owners are not to be pitied. They are fortunate to own property. Tenants too pay taxes. When a man rents a house he pays the taxes. His rent includes the taxes, and even though he doesn't deal directly with the town, and his rent lation by nearly $750,000. doesn't go up and down with the tax-rate, he is What is the reason for this? Simply that the and the costs are very fairly divided through real estate taxation. The town becomes more desirable to live in, property values increase and rents go up. Everybody benefits, everybody pays.

Another point that is often forgotten in this reiteration of the plight of the poor, poor property-owner is that the town has other sources of revenue than real estate taxation. The Newmarket 1941 auditor's report shows that fines, licenses, dog taxes, sale of property purchased at tax sale, miscellaneous revenue, provincial subsidy (in lieu of income tax), rents, provincial relief grants and $7,400 profit from the water and light departments amounted to $16,000. That is the equivalent of over six mills of the tax-rate, and it was not collected from property-owners as such. In addition, a substantial portion of the money raised through the mill rate was on business assessment and on factory assessment, sources of revenue which should be as much for the benefit of nonproperty-owners as of property-owners.

SATURDAY NIGHTS NECESSARY?

Newmarket merchants might well consider closing their stores on Saturdays at 6 p.m. from now until spring. With help becoming more difficult to obtain and hold, the long Saturday is becoming a strain. During the winter months there are no country people who could not do their shopping on Saturday afternoons. When spring and summer comes, many farmers will want to spend all their daylight hours on the land, but until then the merchants might save labor and electricity and keep themselves in trim for perhaps more difficult conditions yet to come.

The merchants have less goods to sell and it is but they are taken for granted, pose the lily banner was lost logical to shorten the hours for selling them.

As Mayor Dr. L. W. Dales said recently, the time might come when Newmarket would be glad to have two municipal nurses.

The right way to start, however, is with a small investment. Acton, Milton and Georgetown are considering employing a public health nurse, with a salary of $1,500 and a car allowance of $500 Each municipality will bear a third of the cost and those two freedoms, as well as in addition furnish suitable nursing quarters.

DEFEATING THE "DEMON"

(Fort Eric Times-Review)

Touching a more important aspect of the matter, time alone will tell whether more good than harm will result from Mr. King's yielding to the unremitting pressure of the many highly-organized groups in this country who would abolish the use of alcoholic beverages. One thing is cer tain: unless one of the immemorial habits of mankind is due to undergo a very sudden and radical change, there will continue to be a demand for us that ruggedness, eternal youth or telephone business. MUNICIPAL TAXATION

(Orillia Packet and Times)

In addressing the council of the county of Ontario last week, the Hon. Gordon Conant, according to the report in the Oshawa Times, Guadalcanal Island in the Solo-"placed upon municipal administrations responsibility for the burden of taxation on real prop- according to a statement made erty." In support of his contention, the prime by U. S. Navy Secretary Frank minister pointed to the fact that whereas the Knox. He said that there might province paid over to the municipalities more than 57 million dollars during the period between 1935 and 1941, the tax levies of all munici- struggle had placed the Ameripalities had decreased by only 3.44 percent. "It is difficult to escape the conclusion," Mr. Conant is quoted as saving. "that in relieving the municipalities they have simply increased expenditures in other directions."

The address would appear to indicate that Mr Conant has little comprehension of the difficult problem that faces municipal bodies, brought about, to a large extent, by the fact that the prov ince had laid too heavy burdens on real estate. to be caving in. Take some Orillia municipal statistics for the period covered by Mr. Conant's figures, for instance. Between 1935 and 1941, the population in Orillia increased from 8,662 to 9,416, or by 8.8 percent. During the same six years, the taxable assessment went, up from $4,827,850 to $4,905,326, or by only 1.8 percent. For a number of years there has been a steady decline in the ratio of assessment to population. Thus in 1929 the assessment per capita in Orillia was $597.95; in 1942, it had dropped to $520.88. In the interval, every Sicilian port of Messina and bat- ner in front of the market with year but one showed some decrease. just as much a taxpayer as his neighbor who owns population is crowding into the houses already a house. When a town provides better schools, available. Large houses are being turned into better services, better pavements and sidewalks, apartments and smaller houses are renting rooms. public health services, that benefits everybody, To a large extent this is the result of high taxation. People, even well-to-do people, cannot afford to pay a high rental for living in their own property. And in many cases municipal taxation does amount to a high rent. It is not a healthy condition. Public policy should be based on the principle of encouraging people to own their homes, with ample ground around them, and to take a pride in making them comfortable, spacious and beautiful.

As a consequence of the increased population, and for other reasons, the cost of education has increased substantially. In 1935, the school rate was abnormally low in Orillia. But between 1936 and 1941 the levies for school purposes increased from $67,061 to $89,082, or by almost exactly a third. Yet in the same period the levies for general purposes decreased from $86,339 to $81,555. This, it is to be remembered, is independent of relief levies.

During these seven years, the council refrained from adding to the debt, with the result that the net debt (the part of debt met by taxes) was reduced from $636,309 to $312,244, or by more than half. This reduced the debenture rate from 8.8 mills to 3.6 mills. Plainly, Orillia council has been trying to practise economy.

Thus the tax rate was brought down from 50 mills in 1935 and 54.5 mills in 1936 to 42.5 mills in 1941 and 44.5 mills in 1942. But it is still much | night and Sunday a number of too high. Twenty years ago the tax rate was just about half this. And it certainly should not exceed 30 mills. As it is, because of the drop in real estate values the assessment is often higher than the selling value. Moreover, because rents fell during the depression, and now are frozen, property owners are called upon to meet the whole rise in the cost of municipal administration.

All of which supports the contention of the Packet and Times that, for the information of the prime minister and his colleagues, a royal commission should be appointed to study the whole subject of municipal taxation, with a view to revising the system so as to broaden its basis and make it more equitable,

Tommy was born in Penetang but has played all his hockey, until this year, with Midland Intermediates. For the past six years he has been a member of that club. Last year he led the club in scoring. Wheeler is one player who gives everything he has during a game. Honorable mention goes to Mc-Master and Nesbitt of the Redmen. An old-timer, Rome, in the Orillia nets played a bang-up game.
